Travel Safely in the Wet Tropics

Bush Walking Safety

Remember to tell a responsible person where you are going and when you expect to return. Let them know your route and contact them on your return. Make sure you carry adequate drinking water for the walk.
http://www.nprsr.qld.gov.au/experiences/safety_in_parks_and_forests.html

Walk softly

Leave no trace. Never chase, scare or feed animals. Stay on the track. Remember in a national park everything is protected. http://nprsr.qld.gov.au/experiences/bushwalking/walk_softly.html

Weather

Always be prepared for wet weather. After rain, creeks and rivers in North Queensland can flood. Always check the weather forecast before you begin your walk. <http://www.bom.gov.au/qld/>

Cassowaries - Be Cass-O-Wary

Cassowary behaviour is unpredictable. If you come face-to-face with one, it's important to have some simple strategies to protect yourself <http://www.ehp.qld.gov.au/wildlife/pdf/be-cassowary-flyer.pdf>

Pets

Please leave your pets at home; domestic animals are not permitted in National Parks in the Wet Tropics.

Crocodiles - Be Croc Wise

Crocodiles are potentially dangerous. Never take unnecessary risks in crocodile habitat. You are responsible for your own safety <http://www.ehp.qld.gov.au/register/p01101aa.pdf>

Snake safety

Watch out for snakes. Though rarely seen, they are always around. If you do see a snake, calmly walk away without disturbing it. Some snakes are more active at night, so always use a torch, wear shoes and watch where you walk. Remember all native wildlife, including snakes, are protected.
http://www.ehp.qld.gov.au/wildlife/livingwith/snakes/snake_bites.html

Stingers

Between November and May Tropical North Queensland waters contain jellyfish, known commonly as marine stingers. <http://www.health.qld.gov.au/goodhealthintq/topics/jellyfish.asp> <http://www.lifesaving.com.au/>
